   The Cape Cod Bag Company wants to help you get ready for beach weather! Swing by the boutique and enter to win a new beach bag valued at $125!

   Celebrating Brewster in Bloom on Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 11 AM – 5 PM. Browse their 2021 collection of bags, totes, accessories, home décor items and more...all handcrafted here on the Cape!

   Built in 1846 as a modest farmhouse, Brewster By The Sea Inn’s roots are deeply connected to several Brewster founding families – The Dillinghams, The Fosters, and the Newcombs. The Inn’s main house was built by the Foster Family. It has been a bed and breakfast since 1966, then known as the Farmhouse Inn. In 2004, the name was changed to Brewster By The Sea Inn.

   Windmill Village includes the Higgins Farm Windmill, Harris Black House and a working blacksmith shop. Owned and maintained by the Brewster Historical Society, the buildings are open for docent led tours in the summer and during special town events.

   Book Sale, nature walk / talk at Paines Creek Beach. Pick up a copy of

   “Kayaking with Kids on Cape Cod AND a special gift!”

   Designed by architect Malcom Wells, and gallery home to resident artist Karen North Wells, this structure is built into the ground! Warm in winter and cool in summer, it’s perfect for Karen’s original paintings. Open House on Saturday, May 1 from 12 – 4. $50 Raffle and enjoy a glass of Sparkling Cider. See the 2022 calendar with paintings by Karen North Wells.

6. STONY BROOK GRISTMILL & HER-RING RUN, 830 Stony Brook Road

   First constructed in 1660, the mill is considered the first business in Brewster. Several years later, the addition of a fulling mill and shoe factory earned this part of town the nickname “Factory Village.” Today, in the summer months on Saturdays, the volunteer miller can be found grinding corn and telling the story of the site.

15. CAPTAIN FREEMAN INN, 15 Breakwater Road, www.CaptainFreemanInn.com

   The inn was built by sea captain William Freeman for his family in the mid-1800’s. Today it is one of Brewster’s historic 5-star inns, owned by Laurie and Jason Stuehmer.

   The Cobb House Museum “springs” into action to celebrate Brewster in Bloom with a circa 1875 carriage filled with blooming plants on the front lawn! Opening June 18, 2021, 1 – 4 p.m.
The property spanning Lower Road that is now the Eddy Sisters Trail and the Eddie Bay Trail was originally the planting fields of the Native American Saquatucket people, and later a division of farms for the colonists in the 1600’s. This site became pasture and tillage for some of Brewster’s leading farming families through the 1800’s. In the 1890’s, this was the site of Pinecraft Farm, owned by Augustus and Cora (Nickerson) Thorndike. Thorndike’s granddaughters, Mary Louise and Ruth Eddy donated most of this land to the Brewster Conservation Trust in 1984 with the rest being donated to BCT in 2000. The Eddy Sisters Trail, a short half-mile walk through the former cranberry bogs and pastures that will lead you on a 1,000-year history! The Eddie Bay Trail is a one-mile walk leading you past the foundation of a 19th century barn, through a grove of large holly trees, and a pine and oak woodland ending at the highest bluff in Brewster overlooking Cape Cod Bay.

For Brewster in Bloom Weekend, April 30 – May 2:
- Docents at Eddy Bay and Eddy Sisters trails on Saturday, May 1 from 9 am to 10 am to answer questions about the history and ecology of the land.
- Story Walk at Eddy Sisters – book is “Bea’s Bees” and will be up around the Eddy Sisters Trail where kids and families can walk and read a story.
- BIRDS and BUDS contest. Name all the birds and or buds and win a gift certificate from a local business. Contest cards can be downloaded from the BCT website!
